Early one bright September morning in 1939, forty-five children enrolled at the Johnston School. This was a record class for enrollment in Kindergarten. Nine brave little souls remained to finish. They were Dixie Clover, Suezanne Bilz, Jacquelyn Longshore, Darrell Seibert, David Schuessler, Bill Peterson, Homer Betz, Dick Rock, and Charles Howe. That year everyone brought his little rug and all took naps. That was back in the good old days. We really thought we were big when they let us take part in a Mother Goose Program with the First and Second grades. Miss Pilmer, our teacher, left us in the Spring to get married, and Mrs. Marjorie Rittgers had the pleasure of our company the rest of the year. She sent us all on to First grade.

This year the same little cheery group entered Miss Lohr's First grade. Here the main things we began to learn were penmanship and reading. We built a play house and invited other grades to play house with us.

In Second grade, Donald Gandy joined our ranks. This was the year that mischievous little Bill Peterson put mice in Miss Taylor's desk. After she recovered from the shock and had threatened him sternly, he did not put them in her desk any more—he put them in her coat closet instead!

Now we were on the first floor. We had graduated from the basement. Mrs. Benshoff was our Third grade teacher. Carol Inman came to back us up this year. I don't believe any of us forgot the narrow escape we had this year when the chimney of the school building was struck by lightning and fell in our room one morning before school had taken up. Back to the basement we went and finished the school year in our old Kindergarten room.

Mrs. Murray had the pleasure?? of teaching us in Fourth grade. She conducted a Valentine contest which we all worked hard to win. Carol Inman decided to take a vacation from us, so we let Roger Tasler take her place. We won the Rhythm Band contest at West Des Moines that year for the first time. We built an Indian village as a class project.

In the Fifth grade our teacher was Mrs. Baker. At the first of the year we made a rule that you couldn't run on the stairs. If you were caught five times in one week, you got a spanking on Friday. Bill Peterson and Donald Gandy were caught five times and received the grand prize come Friday afternoon. Donella Crowell came to take a chance on us about the middle of this year.

In Sixth grade, Mrs. Manny directed us in a play called "How Boots Fooled The King." Incidentally, this won the Academy Award of '45. We invited the Third, Fourth, and Fifth grades to watch this production. Later in the year, we invited Fifth grade to visit the Historical Building with us.

At last we had graduated to the top floor. We had as our teachers, Mrs. Dowling and Mrs. Ballou. This was our first year selling magazines, and we lost to the Eighth grade. So Valentines Day we treated them to a party. During the year Mrs. Dowling fell and broke her leg, so we did all we could to help her.

Having completed Seventh grade, we entered Eighth and had Mrs. McCall and Mrs. Ballou for our teachers. Tom Naylor and Bill Thornburg joined us. We won the magazine contest this year, and Dixie Clover was high salesman. She won a certificate for selling $86 in magazines. Darrell Seibert was a close second. Mrs. Ballou took us on our skip day to Camp Dodge for a picnic. Then came the great day of Commencement. Chuck Howe was our honor student.

Now we entered the pearly gates of High School, only to see the work of the devil during initiation. We would never have pulled through if Joanne Heidman, Phyllis Martin, Jerry Clark, Thurmadene Lester, Carol Inman, Floyd Boyer, and Jean Mathews hadn't joined us this year. The girls wore real short dresses, holey hose, tennis shoes, hair in at least 7 pigtails one day, and straight as a string the next. The boys wore T-shirts and neckties, Li'l Abner shoes, short pants, and make up. We all wore old straw hats and rattles around our necks. Come Friday afternoon, it was altogether a happy time with egg shampoos and eating chocolate pudding blindfolded.

In our Sophomore year, Mrs. Keeton took the Geography class to tour the Register and Tribune building. We saw the new globe in the lobby. Joan Hertz and Jim Vr Meer joined this year. Mr. Howards took over our English class, which turned into a regular circus.

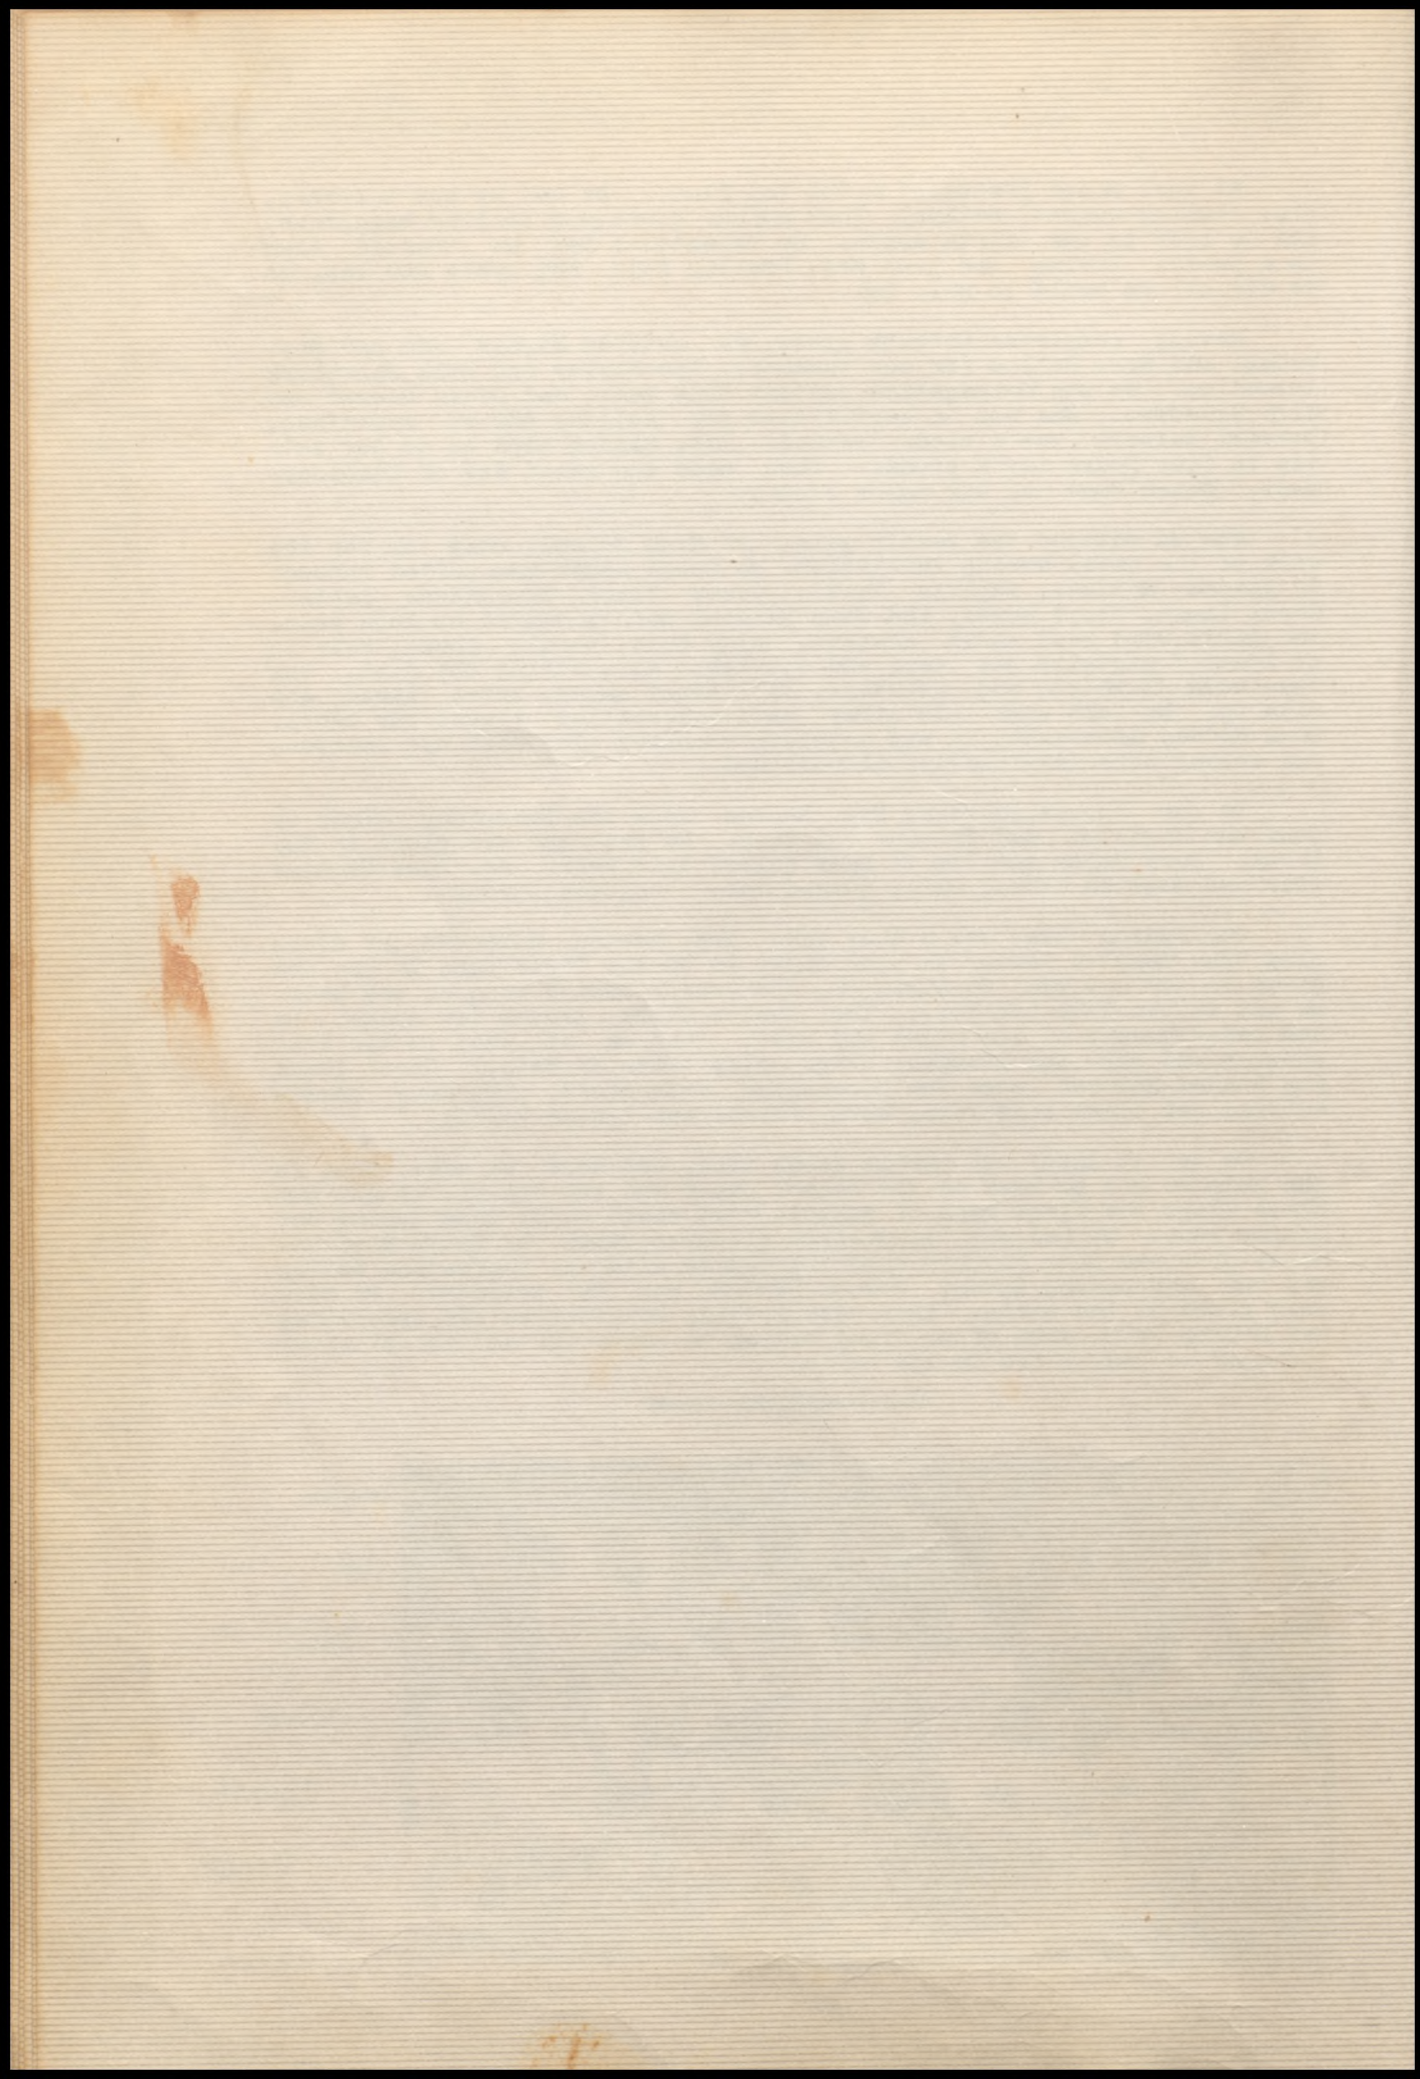

Our Junior year was a busy one. Mrs. Keeton directed our class play "The Tangled Yarn." We were lucky to be the first ones to use the stage in our new gym. On April 21, the Junior-Senior Banquet was held. We met at the YWCA building. The Junior Class sang a few songs. We had refreshments of ice cream and cake. Then we all went to the KRNT Theater and saw the Broadway stage play "Kiss Me Kate." Carol Inman and Joanne Heidman were the Homecoming attendants. Two more people entered our class this year, Betty Forret and Victor Fiebig.

On top at last! It hardly seems true, but here we are. This is the year we got to work on the school paper and the annual. We got our class rings the first week of school, so we could enjoy them during our Senior year. We had our graduation pictures taken by Woltz Studios. Harry Hyde and Ruth Bingham came to graduate with us. Thurmadene Lester was our Homecoming Queen. Joanne Heidman was the Princess. We were very proud of the girls. They were lovely. Now that we are completing our Senior year, some of us dread having to leave the old school after spending so many years in its halls.

Class Will

We, the Seniors, distinguished graduates of 1952, do hereby leave our most cherished possessions which we have obtained only through concentrated effort during our four-year stay in Johnston High School, to be disposed of as follows:

Joanne Heidman--Leaves her arguing ability to Verilea Heskett.

Donella Crowell--Leaves her flag throwing ability to Kay Sloan.

Sue Bilz--Leaves all her boy friends to Sue House.

Jacquelyn Longshore--Leaves her temper to Susan Hummel.

Thurmadene Lester--Leaves the Queen's Crown to Nancy Gilbert.

Dixie Clover--Leaves her height to Mary Lester.

Betty Forret--Leaves her love of shorthand to Connie Andrews.

Phyllis Martin--Leaves her love of teachers to Jim Crawford.

Don Gandy--Leaves his seat in the front of the assembly to Mrs. Varner for the World Series.

Bill Peterson--Leaves his love for argument with Mr. Smith to anyone who wants to get kicked out of class.

Harry Hyde--Leaves his football ability to Kenny Madison.

Chuck Howe--Leaves his ingenuity to Floyd Brown.

Jim Vr Meer--Leaves his typing skill to Dick Sloan.

Floyd Boyer--Leaves his love to play with typewriters to Jerry Zarley.

Tom Naylor--Leaves his ability to copy Business Arithmetic to Joe Miller.

Bill Thornburg--Leaves his ability to befuddle an audience with his magic to John Mahin.

Homer Betz--Leaves his ability in rapid calculation to John Smith.

Roger Tasler--Leaves his ambition (none) to Kenny Stifel.

Dick Rock--Leaves his love of Chevies to any mechanically-minded fellow who can fix up his own car.

Victor Fiebig--Leaves his I. Q. to Larry McKinley.

Jerry Clark--Leaves his understanding of the Bible to Gary Orlich.

Darrell Seibert--Leaves his way with the girls to Jack Stuck, and his technique of playing ping-pong to Mr. Varner.

Dave Schuessler--Leaves his "Ernest Tubb" records to his brother Jim.

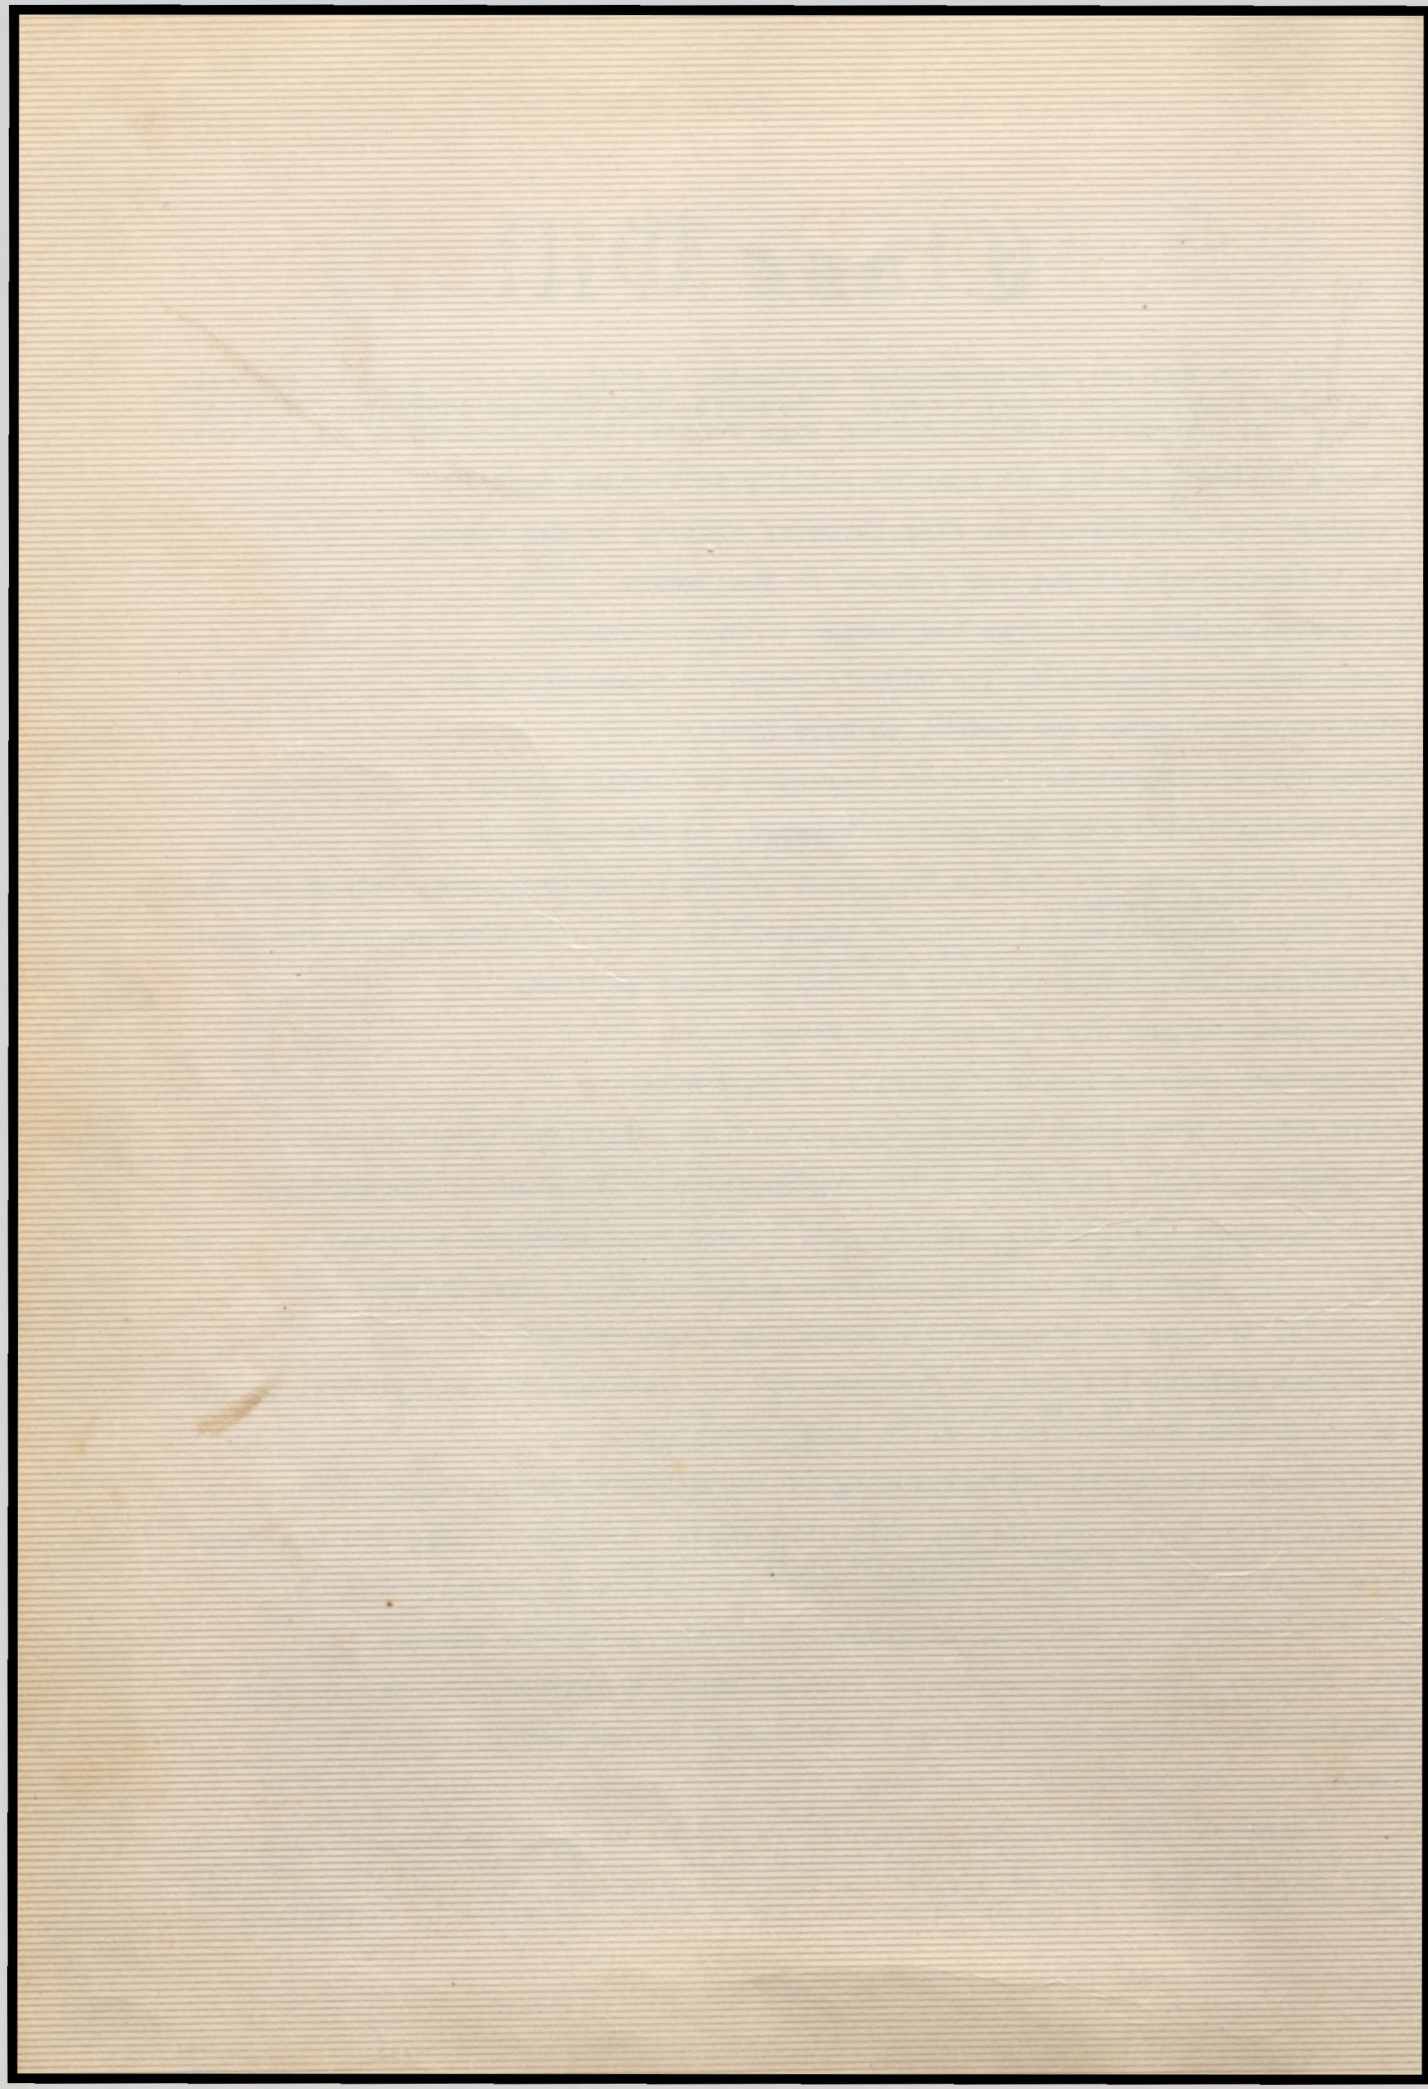

Carol Inman--Leaves her love of gruesome insects to Sandra Mosier.

Ruth Bingham--Leaves her love of school buses to anybody who has to walk to school.

Jean Mathews--Leaves her basketball ability to Doreen Lewis.

Joan Hertz--She just wants to leave.

Therefore, and in witness thereof, we, being rational to the last, do seal this magnificent masterpiece of the Senior class of 1952. Affixed this twenty-ninth day, in the month of May, of the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-two, in the metropolis of Johnston, County of Polk, and state of Confusion.

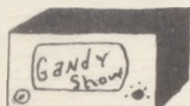

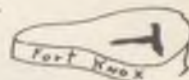

Senior Prophecy

Should you ask me of our Seniors
of the class of '52?
Whence they've gone and how they're doing now that 20 years are through.
For an answer I would tell you,
(And I really ought to know.)
That you'll find their lives depicted in the scenes you see below.

Here's Dick Rock, with cleaver cold,
Selling beef for lumps of gold.

You'll find Gandy on T.V.
Impersonating Milton B.

Harry Hyde's a football star.
He's made the Giants what they are.

Chuck Howe has moved a way out west,
He's raising Herefords at their best.

Here's Sue Bilz with her 10 little pearls,
Five little boys and five little girls.

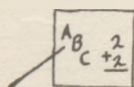

$$\begin{array}{r} 5 \\ + 5 \\ \hline \end{array}$$

Tom Naylor's crown is being cast.
He's king of the hoboes at long last.

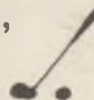

Bill Thornburg is leaving very soon
To fly his rocket to the moon.

Thurmadene Lester, a pretty little teacher
In the same town where Jerry Clark's a preacher.

Rog Tasler's Drive-In is humming with cars,
While he's on the golf course shooting straight pars.

Jackie Longshore's a fine beautician,
At fixing hair she's a magician.

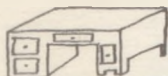

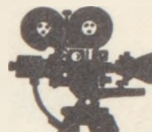

As Mayor of Boston Dixie won renown,
She put the crooks right out of town.

Phyllis Martin's on T.V.
She's a sales girl for G.E.

Betty Forrest's the finest of secretaries.
(It's just a fill-in 'till she marries.)

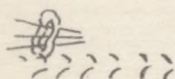

Here's Donella Crowell, the swimming star,
She swam the channel very far.

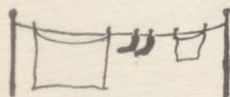

David Schuessler's raising dogs,
Sells them all to feed his hogs.

Jim Vr Meer's a bank president in New York City where he's a resident.

Homer Betz has a jet propelled plow.
He works so fast he's resting now.

Joan Hertz is Homer's wife.
They think farming is sure the life.

Jean Mathews is a nurse in white,
And to all her patients she's a delight.

At Ruth Bingham we'll take a peek,
She's a stenographer for 50 a week.

Joanne Heidman's a mountain guide,
In her spare time she'll horseback ride.

Darrell decided the law to probe.
He's quite distinguished in his black robe.
His partner in crime is now Floyd Boyer,
He, too, turned out to be a lawyer.

Here's Victor Fiebig running his firm,
He plans to try for governor next term.

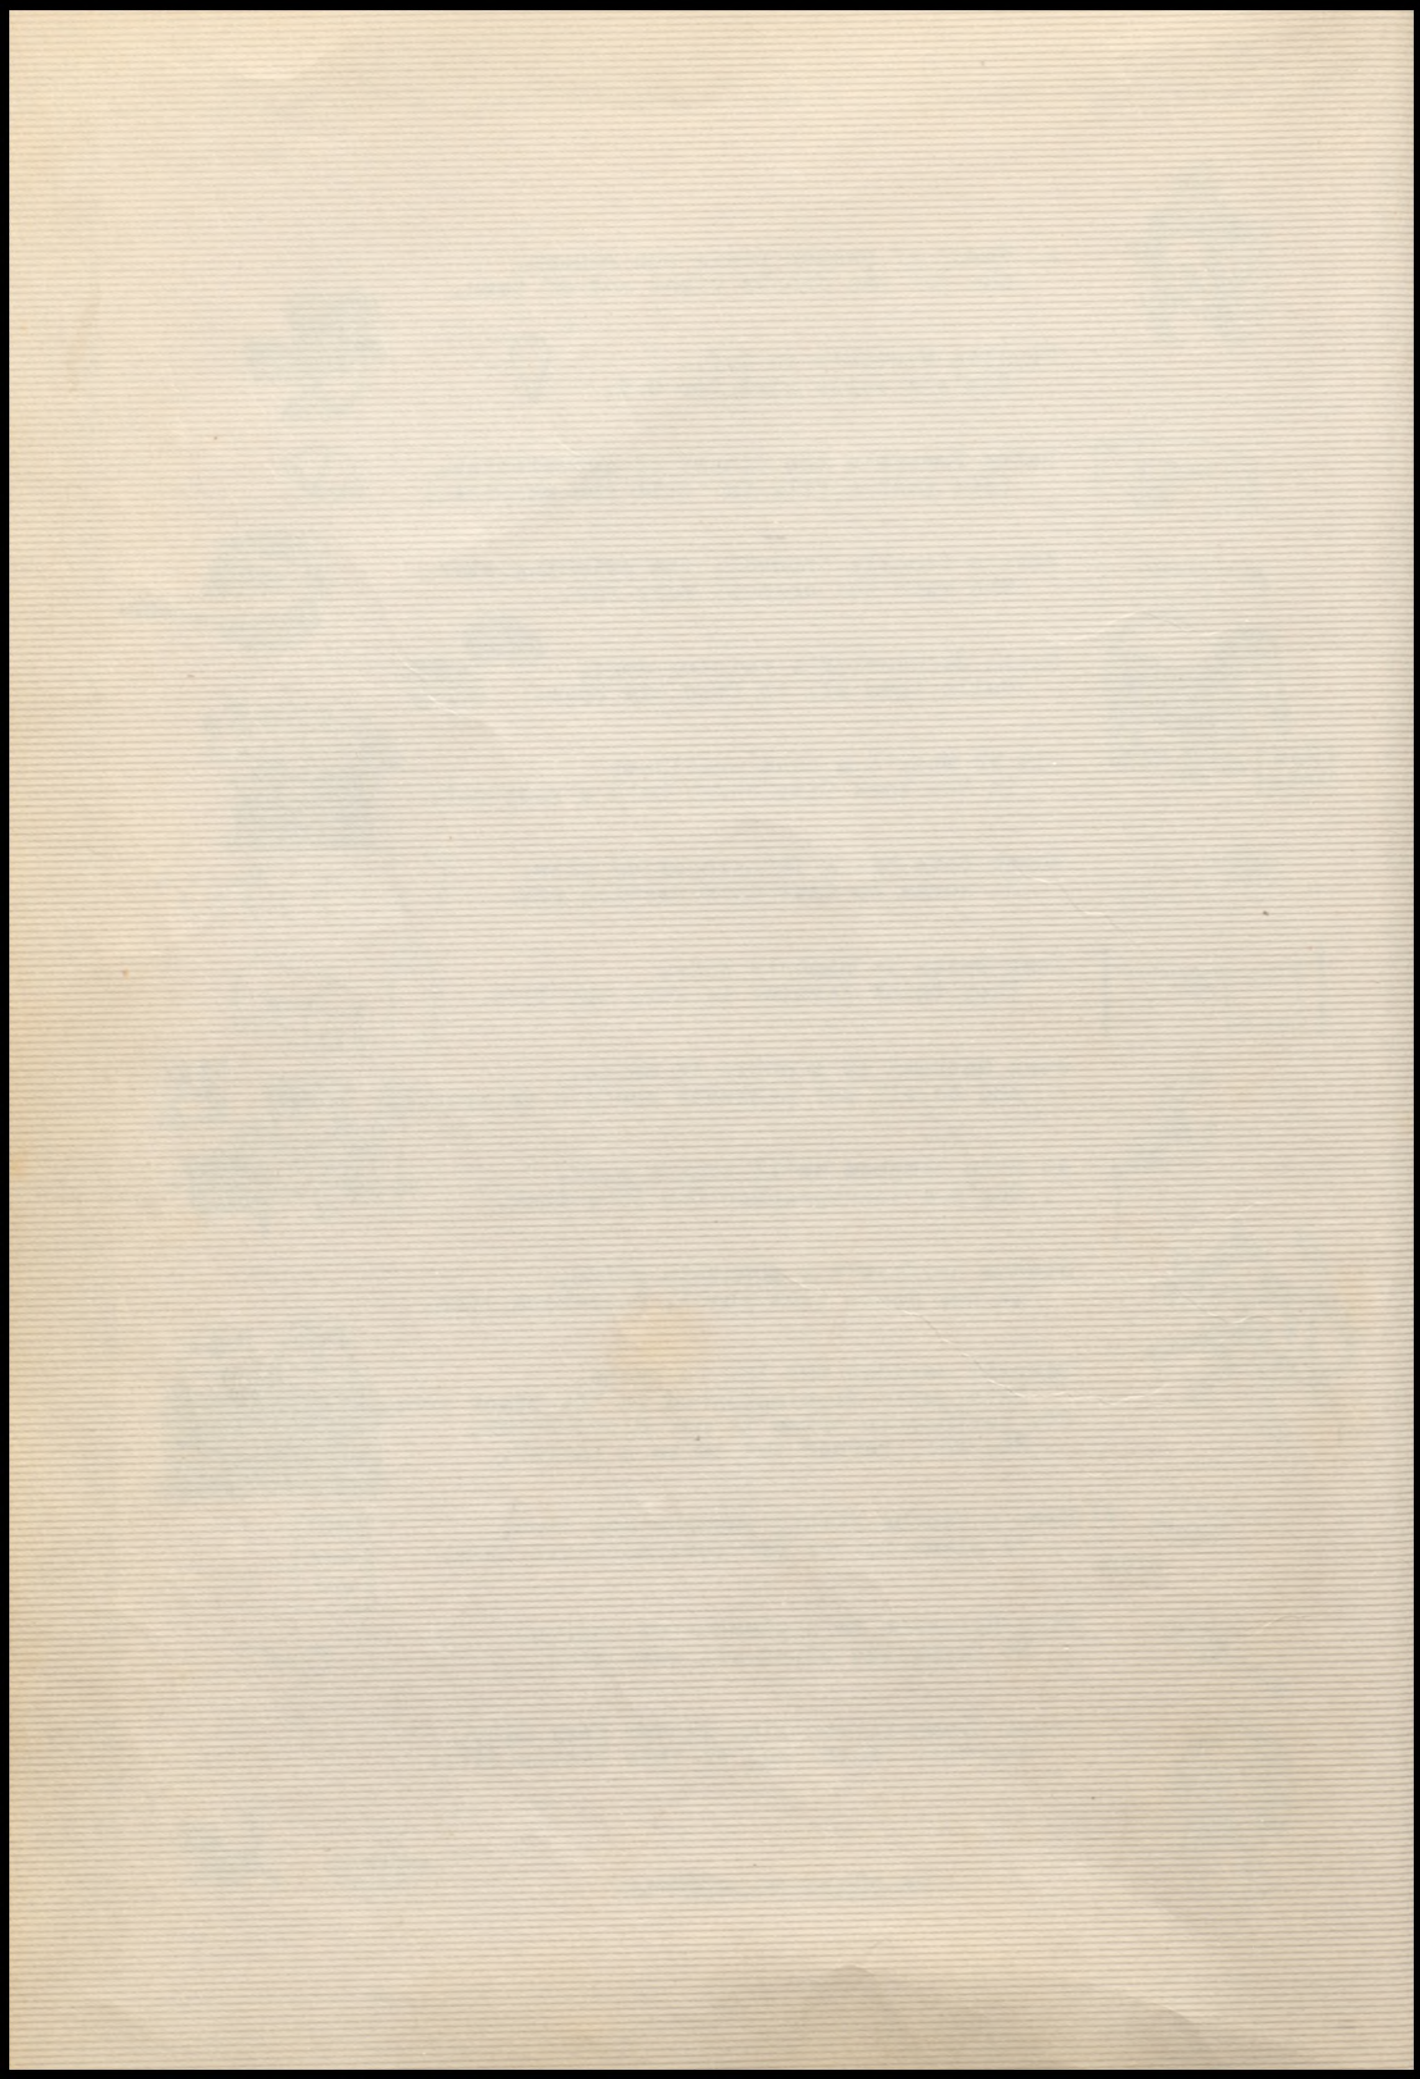

Bill Peterson is a plumber of renown,
He fixes the pipes all over town.

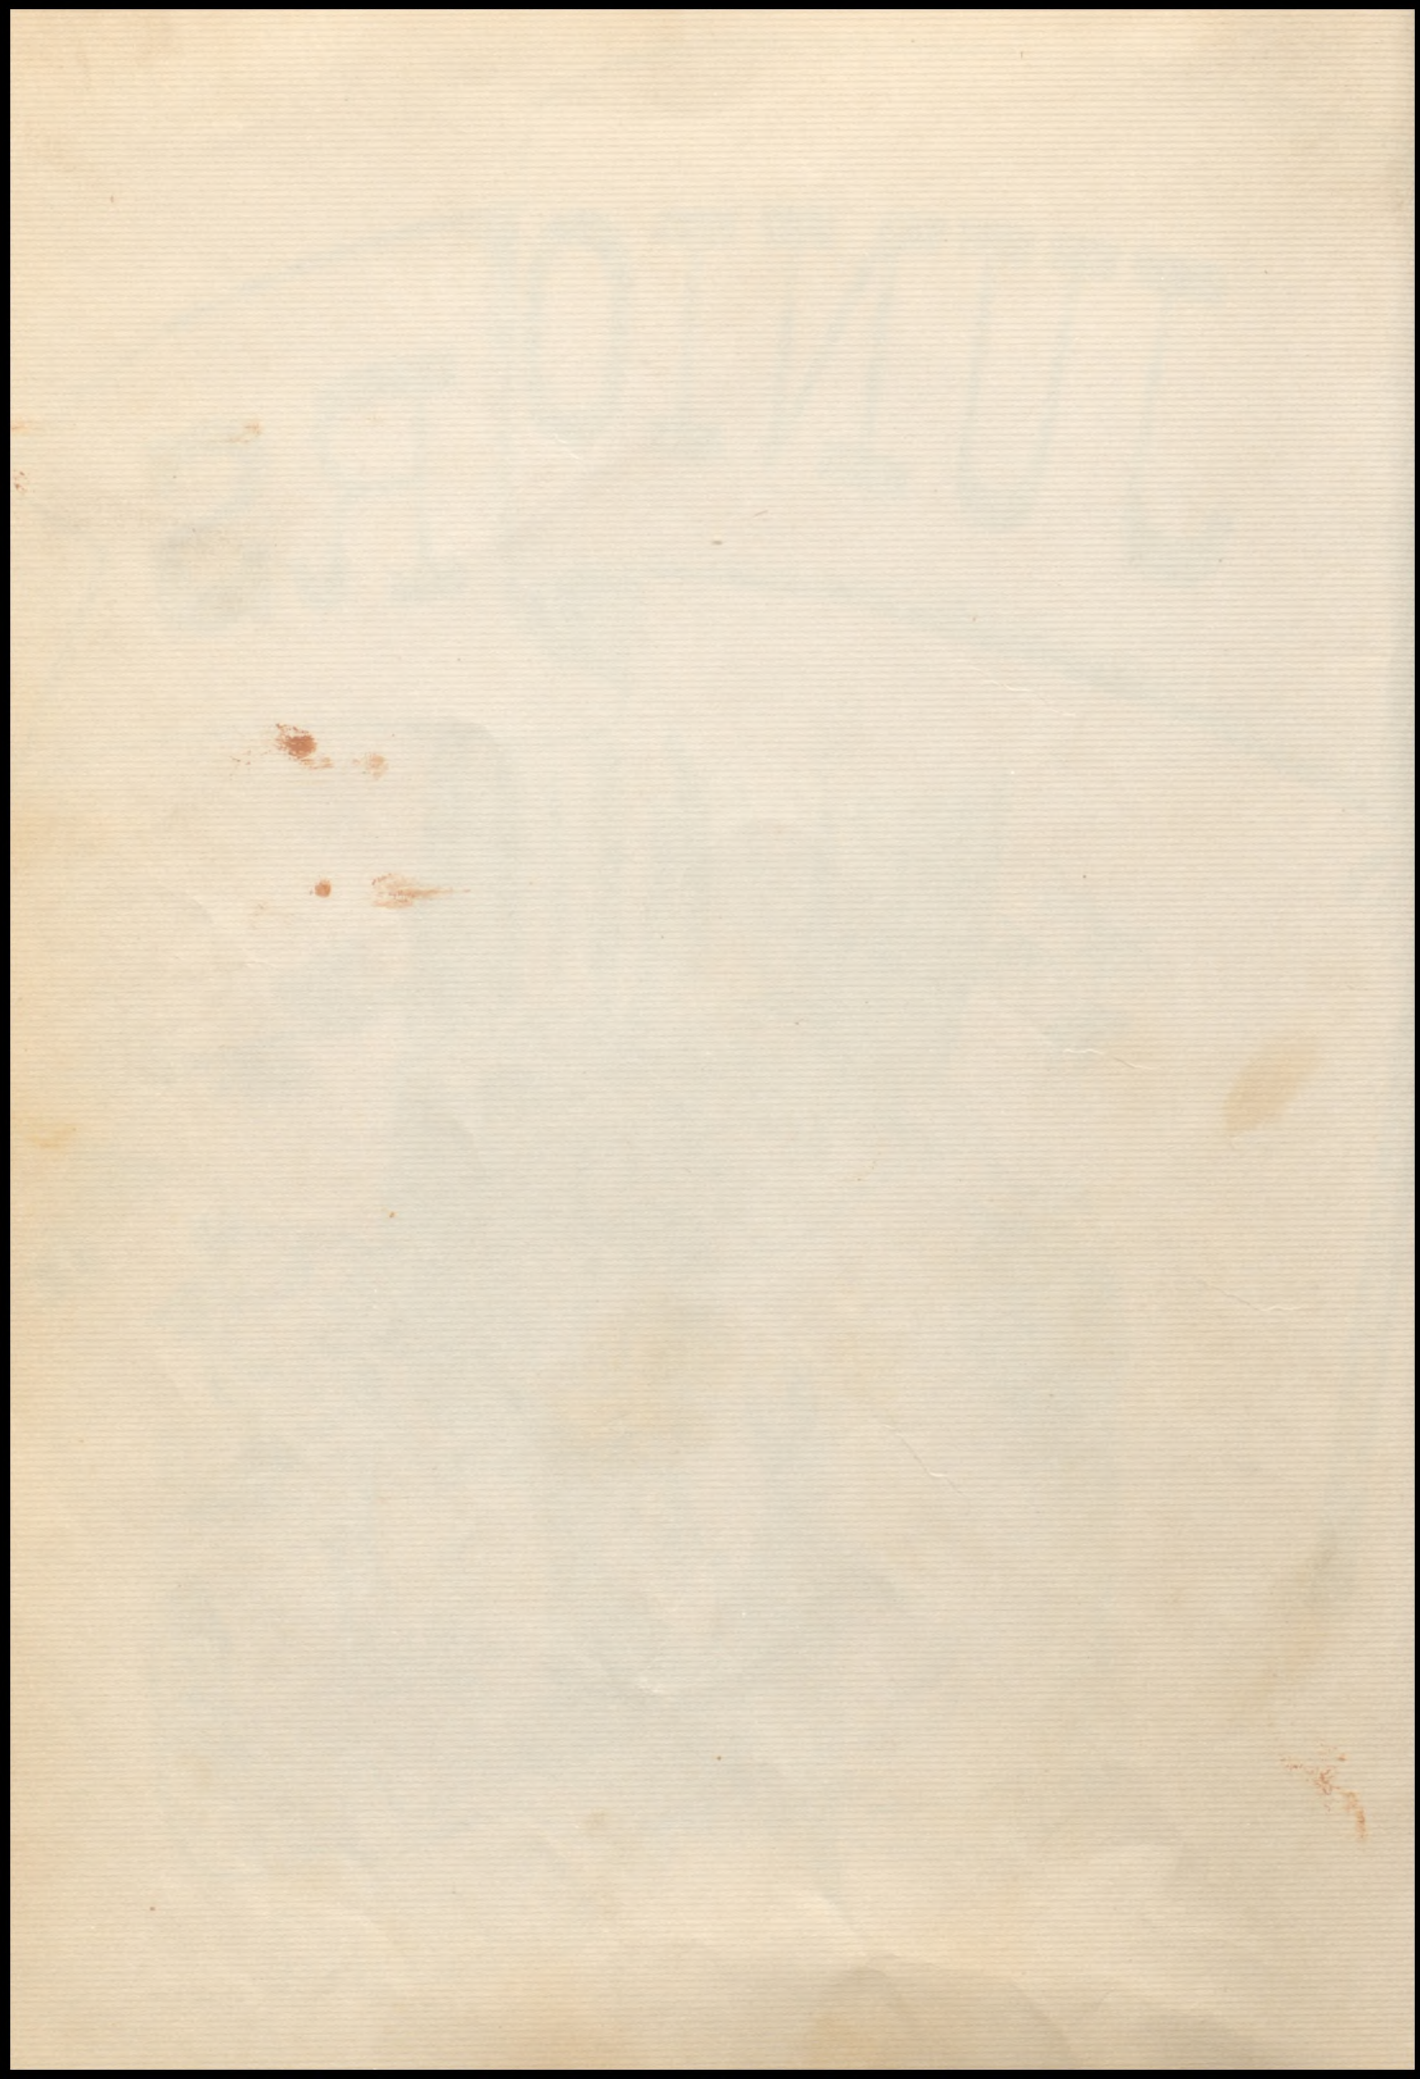

Carol Inman is modeling in New York City.
And that is the end of this little ditty.

JOHNSTON—THE HYBRID HUB OF AMERICA

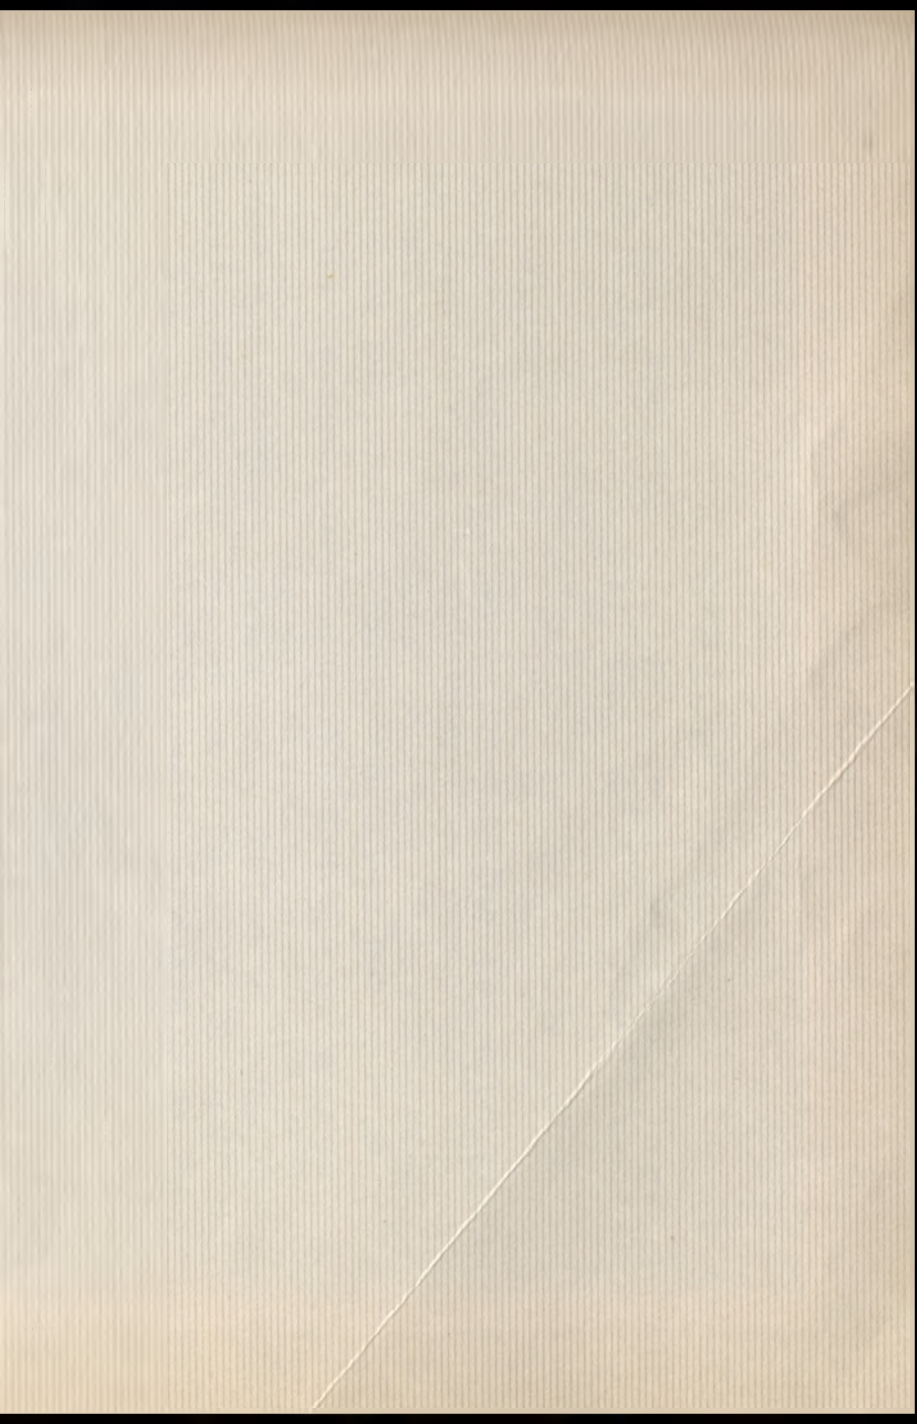

THE HYBRID CORN INDUSTRY GOT ITS START IN JOHNSTON WHEN THE PIONEER HI-BRED CORN CO. FIRST ORGANIZED IN 1926. THE PIONEER COMPANY LAUNCHED THE HY-LINE POULTRY PROJECT, FIRST OF ITS KIND IN THE COUNTRY, TEN YEARS LATER---MAKING JOHNSTON THE HYBRID HUB OF AMERICA.

ONE OF THE CORN BREEDERS WHO IS HELPING TO KEEP PIONEER CORN FOREMOST IN THE EYES OF FARMERS ACROSS THE CORNBELT IS JIM WEATHERSPOON. ABOVE, WEATHER-SPOON IS MAKING MATURITY CHECKS IN THE INBRED PLOT AT
